Feedback comments:

The document addressed all the necessary components. It is a good quality document showing the scanning results as well as the vulnerability assessment using threat modeling.

Knowledge and Understanding

Environment and findings are clearly defined using the evaluation matrix. Scanning results are well explained in the light of theories and practices. The comprehensive scanning results are outlined within the standard assessment framework. -

Distinction

Application of knowledge

The knowledge is applied by demonstrating the scanning exercise, showing the ranking of the risks, and finally relating to the evaluation analysis. The report has presented the threats and challenges and they are aligned with the tools selection. The methodology suggests the evaluation of tools and the scanning process evaluation linking to risks. - Distinction.

Criticality

The tabular format for summarizing the information is good. The summary is linked to the vulnerability. Interpretation of this vulnerability has added value. Also, Threat tables are properly organised outlining the details of the impacts. GDPR, PCI compliances are adequately demonstrated and relates to the vulnerability assessment. -

Distinction.

Structure and Presentation

Properly formatted document. Tables and diagrams are well positioned. Document is easy to follow. Excellent set of references. - Distinction.

Tutor's feedback - Individual Reflective Piece

Feedback comments:

Knowledge and understanding: Distinction

You came up with the action plan, which is great. You summarized your learning journey in terms of methods and standards you have across in this module. You summarized your reflection combining all these artifacts with the evolving nature of your learning has improved the work. You demonstrated the artifacts and related those to your unit outcomes, however, you can map them to the skill set to derive a set of action plans.

Collaboration: Merit

You reflected on the collaboration posts, seminar presentations and wiki posts, that is great. An approach to relating them to the collaboration activities for identifying the 'inspiring' or 'challenging' moments that can enhance the quality of the work. A concrete reflection on the leadership, decisions, and learning preferences would have improved the work. Good discussion on the tools and assessment works.

Criticality: Merit

You can map your skillset towards your learning and monitor progress. Adding a learning map towards progression by means of an action plan can also give you a great learning strategy. Your showcase can include individual feedback sessions. You may find the answers for- has your prior experience/knowledge been challenged? Can you evidence any personal or professional development? What are your thoughts on the artifacts you have presented? Were they particularly easy to do or did you have to overcome some challenges?

Structure and Presentation: Distinction

Excellent presentation.

Academic Integrity: Merit

More references were needed. I think you can also add the references for the reflection model you used.
